I am a resident artist and member of the South Eastern Minnesota Visual Arts co-op at SEMVA.com and have created pieces for friends in New Zealand, Ireland, Russia and locally in the U.S. I am looking to expand my social network within and beyond the states and I primarily do this through personal letters and by phone (a.k.a. "Old school").

Colors, shapes and shade can influence your mood and emotions. They can stir memories of sadness, happiness and serenity. When you experience art that inspires you, one can imagine a sense of pride, confidence and joy that YOU have or can share with someone else to help transform something magnificent from chaos, sadness or mere entropy.

My creations are like children. One may be for yourself or your gift of appreciation for a loved one. I want to create a safe, personalized and positive opportunity for you to adopt them and invest in YOUR BEST LIFE!

I'm Benjamin. At 5'9" and 190lb. with an intelligent wit, amicable disposition and financially secure, I am also a painter (fine art), musician, actor, father, brother and poet and business owner.

Born in Iowa and reared in Minnesota, I have a university education, but know that life is more than books. I've developed a couple global connections and yearn to experience more that life has to offer. The good part is that I am not dead yet and have an incomplete bucket list. Like most people, I want to live a fulfilled and happy life and hope to share that joy with others.

As such, this is what I have learned that everyone should believe about themselves:

- ✂ You deserve the best.
- ✂ You deserve to be loved.
- ✂ You deserve to be happy.
- ✂ You deserve to be valued.
- ✂ You deserve to feel secure.
- ✂ You are worth more than you think.

I am the eldest of three with two sisters and six nieces and nephews and one adult son all with whom I have great, supportive relationships. I enjoy music (particularly EDM) and have a varied collection of other genre's. I enjoy hockey, Formula 1 racing, sci-fi, comedy and political intrigue. I have been a dog groomer/trainer in a past life, and in addition to constantly refining my art skills I am teaching myself guitar.

I am also seeking a woman to fill the void in my heart, but I am very open to communicating with other intelligent folk worldwide and will send a personalized card to everyone who writes. ----'---.---;@

In this age of digital speed and impersonal relationships, I desire to build intimate interactions with others through valuable and shared experiences. Do you appreciate the finer things and still enjoy the random and silly events that make us laugh at ourselves? What's your favorite snack food? Where would you holiday if money were no object?

To learn how to start investing in your own art collection (it might not even be mine) or just connect with me, please reach me through the message box on penpals.buzz/alfsonart, directly by mail (see box above), or leave a 15 second voicemail message at: 507-484-9930 x-53824 and include your country code. I never call collect.

I've sent complimentary originals to all of my serious pen-friends (international and U.S.) as our relationships develop.
